

To whom it may concern.

I Commissioned Cary Gleeson and his team to build a new studio in Grey Lynn, Auckland last year. The studio is where I operate my art and design business.

It was built in the grounds of an existing property owned by my partner Philippa Jones. The process could have been very disruptive, since she works at home as a writer.

The building process was in fact a pleasure and we put this down entirely to the builders' attitude and professional way that they conducted themselves: Always with polite consideration and nothing was a problem. The building is an outstanding success and extremely well built.

I can recommend Gleeson Builders completely They also handled the total project management and coordination of suppliers and sub contractors on time and on budget.

The architects are also pleased with the result and it will be featured in a magazine article in the coming months.

We would recommend Gleeson Builders to anyone considering employing them.

Yours sincerely,

Martin Hill
